CORAL RADIANCE 2016

COLOUR OF THE YEAR

Colour of the molten sun, fall leaves, the richest amber, the ripest fruit. An orange of a deep, dense hue. With none of the ferocity of red but all its passion, none of the casualness of yellow but all its cheer.

MY CITY MY HOME

A Caribbean ethos is emerging, stronger than before, where public spaces are given as much care as the private. Caribbean people are claiming spaces outside their own front door, colouring it with their unique, beautiful soul.

In these times of frenzied information exchange where every human action is potential data for large corporates to mine, the individual is claiming his independence, using his discretion and diligence to navigate the world on his own terms.

MY FREEWILL

No pun in ten did

The irrepressible human spirit spills out with humour and surprising perspectives rescuing us from the grey of urban existence.

These are fertile times, everything is just right for entrepreneurship to flourish and businesses big and small are mushrooming everywhere.

BERGER

THE CARIBBEAN'S FOREMOST COLOUR TREND FORECAST

Introduced in 2003, ColourNext, our annual colour forecast, has become widely recognised as being a powerful tool for designers, architects and anyone working with colour to refer to for the upcoming years' freshest colours and a springboard for design ideas.

CORAL
RADIANCE
2016

Coral Radiance has enormous longevity, never tiring the senses, enriching and soothing. It has a positivity that makes it the perfect colour expression for this years' ColourNext, dominated as it is by action oriented themes, each one essentially about progression, about moving on and forward where determined action yields concrete results.

Like all things dynamic, orange is versatile. Tone down the red and a sorbet freshness emerges with a youthful energy - a sprightly, fun step. A deeper hue gives it a more sophisticated feel, the warmth of a more mature fire. And its vividness, its bright sun, make it such a Caribbean colour.

So welcome to our Colour of the Year. Let its positive spirit awaken and energize. Welcome to Coral Radiance.
