The colours in a room can influence our moods and our thoughts. Colours behave in three basic ways: active, passive, and neutral. One can easily match every room's colours to personal taste and to the room's purpose. Light colours are expansive and airy. Dark colours are sophisticated and warm. Here're some tips to help you choose the right colours for your next painting project.

Choosing colour is often a reflection of one's individuality and personality. In choosing your next colour scheme, think of the mood and ambiance you want to create, then consider the impact of sheen and lighting.
